MRS. HALL ACCEPTS CHALLENGE OF MRS. GIBSON TO FACE HER

DEMOCRATIC STATE CHAIRMAN CLAIMS ONLY 55 COUNTIES

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 31.—Three New York photographers today sought an action picture of Mrs. James Gibson. They saw one but didn't stay to get it.

Evading the guards they made their way to the front of the house where they were met in the doorway by the "pig woman." She warned them away but they persisted in advancing. Drawing a shot gun she took them aim and fired. Whether the aim was wild or the photographers "just naturally" outdistanced the snail is not known.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Hall, widow of the slain doctor today accepted the challenge of Mrs. James Gibson, the "pig-woman" that she dared not stand before her and deny that she was the woman in the gray polo coat she saw present at the double slaying. Thomas Pfeiffer, attorney for Mrs. Hall, announced on behalf of his client that she would stand face to face with Mrs. Gibson and deny she was in the vicinity of the murder on the night of the crime. It is understood she will be supported by Peggy Boorneff who will swear that Mrs. Hall was at home during the time of the murder.

MRS. ROSIER TELLS WHAT SHE SAW IN HUSBAND'S OFFICE

Mrs. Rosier testifying in her own behalf yesterday that her mind is blank as to the actual killing of her husband, Oscar Rosier, advertising man, and his stenographer, Mildred G. Reckitt.

The young lawyer was in tears when at 10:50, with the assistance of a court officer, she took her seat in the witness stand of quarter sessions court No. 1, where she is on trial for the killing of Miss Reckitt.

Several times she fainted upon the stand, and it was only after she had been given restoratives by the court attaché that she was enabled to continue her testimony. Her voice was hardly audible, and it was with the greatest of difficulty that Judge Barratt, the lawyers and the jurors were (Continued On Page Two)

NOTICE OSCEOLA

A story in yesterday's Progress gave the impression that a night meeting was to be held at Osceola this coming Friday at which several candidates would be present to state their views. Because of the big night meeting at Clearfield on Friday, the Osceola meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m.

Romeo of '81 Jailed in Love Suit

John Edgeworth is 81 but he has a way with the women. One of them obtained a judgment for breach of promise, whereupon the alleged Romeo said he would go to jail rather than pay. He went. When he entered his cell, he loosened his vest and spats, lit a cigaret and remarked "This is nothing in my young life."

Questions Faith

After 50 years of priesthood, Rev. Samuel Davis McConnell, former pastor of St. Stevens Episcopal Church of Philadelphia, has published a book in which he questions fundamentals of Christian belief.

GOV. ALLEN GIVING KLAN NO QUARTER IN HOT FIGHT

Kansas City, Kansas, Oct. 31.—Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas in a speech made at Lacombe today said that by another day he would be prepared to state in what way he proposes to oust the Ku Klux Klan from the state. Governor Allen, who declared war on the Klan last Saturday, has lost no time in setting up machinery for a fight against it and has missed no opportunity to denounce its secret working methods.

ROTARIANS MEET DISTRICT GOVERNOR AT NOON CONCLAVE

To accommodate District Governor George Lunam of Harrisburg, who is engaged in making his official visitation to the twenty-five Rotary Clubs in his district, the regular weekly meeting of the Clearfield Rotary Club was advanced from Thursday evening to Tuesday at noon.

District Governor Lumm was accompanied to Clearfield by Jack O'Neil, also of Harrisburg. On the way across country they stopped at Philipsburg and President M. Ward Fleming and Secretary Bob Stauffer joined the party and came along to Clearfield.

There was a fine turnout of local Rotarians to greet the District Governor who outlined the aims, objects and ideals of Rotary in a highly interesting twenty minute talk.

Jack O'Neil also addressed the gathering and urged, as did the District Governor, the sending of a large delegation to the 34th District convention, which is to be held in Frederick, Md., in March next.

The District Governor will present their charter to the Philipsburg Club at a meeting to be held at the Hotel Philips at 5 o'clock this evening and a number of Clearfield Rotarians will be present to witness the ceremony.

At the conclusion of the meeting today the Board of Directors of the local club went into executive session with the District Governor for the transaction of some important official business.

Mr. Maneval has the sympathy of the entire populace in his hour of sorrow and bereavement.

SMALL GAME SEASON STARTS TOMORROW MORNING AT SUNUP

The small game hunting season opens in Pennsylvania November 1st and when the sun comes up tomorrow the major portion of the 450,000 hunters in the State will be in their favorite game covers ready to slay the wily pheasant, fleet-footed rabbit, cunning squirrel or wary quail.

In Clearfield county it will be lawful, for the first time in several years to shoot quail and ring-necked pheasants while wild turkey will also be legal game after November 1st.

The following table of open season will be of interest to sportsmen. Pheasant, ring neck, Chinese and Mongolian, three in one day, six in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Beet, one each season, three to one camp or body of men, November 1st to December 15th.

Quail, commonly called Virginia quail and Gambel quail, eight in one day, twenty-five in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Rabbits, five in one day, forty in one season, November 1st to November 15th.

Quail, Hungarian, four in one day, ten in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Ruffed Grouse, commonly called pheasant, three in one day, fifteen in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Squirrels, back, fox or gray, six of combined kinds in one day, twenty in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Squirrels, red or pine, unlimited, November 1st to August 15th.

Wild turkey, one in a season, Nov. 1st to November 30th.

Game of no kind, except racoon, can be legally killed from sunset of one day to sunrise of the day following. It is illegal to ship by parcel post game of any kind in the Commonwealth.

ONE DIES IN FIRE IN SHELLAC PLANT; EIGHT ARE HURT

New York, Oct. 30.—One person is reported dead and eight seriously injured in a fire which tonight swept through a Brooklyn factory. Several persons, trapped by the flames, fanned by high winds, jumped from the windows.

A series of fire alarms called engines from all parts of the greater city to the blaze. Nearby hospitals immediately recruited emergency forces and the injured were rushed there.

Reports of at least fifteen persons missing are not given any credence by police today.

MENTALLY DEFICIENT GIRL IS CONFINED IN CELLAR OVER 2 YEARS

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—A pitiful story was detailed to a police woman here today by 19-year-old Mary Devine, who says she has been confined in the cellar of her home for over two years while her younger brother and sisters were permitted to roam at will. The girl who is mentally deficient, haltingly told the police woman, "Mother didn't want the neighbors to see me; she didn't like me. Once in a while when she was sure nobody was around she would call me up to scrub the floors."

WAS UNCLE OF LOCAL MAN

W. W. Sterrett, the Devon, Pa., man, who died on Sunday last of poisoning as a result of having eaten a portion of a poisoned cake which was sent to him through the mails, was an uncle of County Farm Agent W. G. Sterrett, of Clearfield.

Mr. Sterrett left this morning for his old home at Beechwoods, Jefferson county, where the remains of his uncle will be buried tomorrow afternoon.

XMAS SEAL SALE NOT STARTED YET

The attention of the public is directed to the sale by various children and individuals of seals that appear to be the Xmas Seals which are sold by the Clearfield Tuberculosis Society. These seals are sold for private gain and the unsuspecting purchaser is left under the impression that he is assisting the noble charity for which the original seal was sold and the proceeds from which is the sole means of supporting the work of the society. The genuine Xmas Seal will not be put on sale before December first, when it goes on sale all over the State and the Nation simultaneously. See that the red double barred cross is on the seals you buy and when you do buy, buy all you can as the society is now practically without funds and there is much work during the winter months.

THE SMYRNA REFUGEES

We want again to remind you that there is a great need of both money and supplies of clothing for the Smyrna refugees and if the church or organization with which you are affiliated does not give you an opportunity to contribute, the deacons of the Presbyterian church will be delighted to receive and forward anything you may contribute. Just leave it at the Pine street entrance of the church and we will attend to it.

Promptness in giving in this case has double value and virtue.

A single garment now is worth more than twenty will be in a few months to those people and unless they get some food promptly now they won't need any.

The Relief Association has wonderful facilities for repairing and renovating clothing so that almost anything except straw or stiff hats and bonnets can be utilized. Just give your closets the once over and see if you can't find something that you can bring to us and receive our thanks and the blessing of some poor starving, cold soul over in Asia Minor.

The Presbyterian Deacons.

PLANS GO FORWARD FOR REPUBLICAN RALLY FRIDAY

Indications point to an especially large crowd of working Republicans from all over Clearfield county at the big rally to be held at the Court House in Clearfield on Friday evening, November 3rd. In addition to the local and district candidates, Hon. Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, Deputy Attorney General and the man whom the late Highway Commission Sadler styled the most brilliant man he had ever met will address the meeting.

Mr. Collins is an orator without peer in Pennsylvania and it will be a treat to hear him talk.

A meeting will be held at Osceola on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the conclusion of which the candidates and other speakers will all come to Clearfield for the evening meeting.

Son Of Former Resident Suicides While Mother Prepares To Go To Church

William Irvin Shewell, twenty-six year old, 1732 Spruce street, Philadelphia a senior student of the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, and a member of the Phi Alpha Sigma Fraternity and of the William Pepper Medical Society, shot and killed himself Sunday morning in his bedroom after he asked his mother, Mrs. Laura Ward Shewell, and his sister, Miss Rebecca, who were preparing to go to church, to wait for him. Relatives say he was despondent due to an illness from overstudy.

His mother, who is the widow of William M. Shewell, after waiting for some time, was about to send her daughter to see what delayed him, when the two women heard a pistol shot. They ran up the stairs and opening the door found the young man stretched on the bed with a bullet through his head.

They had him taken immediately to the Polyclinic Hospital but he was dead.

G. D. Shewell of Germantown, a cousin, said the young man had suffered severe pains in the back of his head and that he frequently had complained.

"For the last six weeks," said Mr. Shewell, "Williams has been under the care of a physician. He has been applying himself too hard to his studies and frequently told the family that he felt as if something were about to break in the back of his head, so intense was the pain."

Mrs. Shewell, mother of the unfortunate young man, was formerly Miss Laura Shaw and was raised in Clearfield.

LOCAL MAN IN AUTO SMASH

E. J. Turner in his Franklin car had a run in with a Cadillac near Blue Ball Sunday afternoon. Mr. Turner was traveling toward Philipsburg when the Cadillac made the turn off the Morgan Run road. When he saw the Franklin approaching the driver of the Cadillac, whose name we did not learn, attempted to stop his car but his brakes failed to work and he wallowed the Franklin, knocking it eight or ten feet across the road. Both cars were considerably damaged and while the occupants were more or less shaken up none was seriously injured.

Spanked!

Mrs. Adele Blom Montford, prominent in New York society, played the title role in "She Who Got Spanked," according to her husband, Frederick D. Montford. Her husband, former St. Paul banker, admitted in separation suit papers, that he spanked his bride in a hotel in Naples.

TAKEN TO THE PENITENTIARY

Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Hunn, caught left this morning for Philipsburg, having in charge Vincenzo La Rossa, who got mixed up in the Luff, Tulletti case and was given two years of labor in the penitentiary, and Mike Martino, of the Madera region who was also sentenced by Judge Bell on Saturday last to serve one year in separate and solitary confinement for the carrying of concealed deadly weapons and threatening to shoot a young woman up in the Madera section.

SATURDAY WILL BE FORGET-ME-NOT DAY

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—Governor Sproul today signed a proclamation designating Saturday, November 4th, as Forget-Me-Not Day in honor of and for the benefit of disabled ex-service men. The Governor warmly commended the leaders of the movement and urges all citizens to buy forget-me-nots from the proper agencies, which funds are to be used to help disabled men.

TOM SIMS' Hallowe'en

Hallow e'en is one of our most unknown-about celebrations.

King of spades means you needed a king of diamonds.

Apparently without any provocation that is what tonight is.

Four aces, you will be rich. Five aces, you will be shot.

Its origin dates back even before the annual coal shortages.

Tea grounds in a cup bottom means it wasn't coffee.

While it only comes once a year it has seldom been known to miss.

Apple peels shaped like letters show they are not orange peels.

It really is All Souls' Day, but all the sinners celebrate.

Count apple seeds. One with the most proves the early worm late.

Yet, as a saxophonist said, "It's an ill wind that blows no good."

Apples dangling from strings make an excellent string game.

If you have furniture you dislike just leave it on the porch.

Each is the apple of your eye because that is where it hits you.

William can get his ears clean bobbing for apples in a tub.

Race, chewing opposite string ends, stops chewing the rag.

Steal your own fence and gate and it will help with the coal bill.

In this chewing match always give the men a two-foot start.

This is the only way you can give the coal barons the gate.

Blindfold everyone and let them hunt thumbtacks barefooted.

People naturally hankering for a party can fling one naturally.

Enjoyment is added if they carry lighted candles in both hands.

Your visitors will be guests because you guess who they are.

Hide and seek is fine. Seek to pull someone's flowers and hide.

You will know which is witch but can't tell which is which.

Then the owner of the flowers seeks your hide and tans it.

When the cats are served watch the goblins gobble.

The ghost really walks for those who get paid on the first.

Fortunes can be told tonight and misfortunes tomorrow.

All the 'pumpkin' heads running around won't have candles in them.

CELEBRATED SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rearick celebrated their 25th or silver wedding anniversary at their home at Kennedy Park Game Reserve on Saturday, October 28th, 1922. More than fifty of their former neighbors and friends from Jefferson and Elk counties, principally, were present to assist in properly celebrating the happy event.

The weather was ideal for the occasion and tables were erected on the lawn and there at the mountain top, and one of the most picturesque spots in all of Pennsylvania, the ceremony incident to the eventful occurrence was held and a most excellent dinner enjoyed.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Bell, who performed the wedding ceremony twenty-five years ago, was one of the honored guests.

Mrs. Rearick received a wealth of handsome and valuable presents and the day was thoroughly enjoyed. Those present for the happy occasion were as follows:

Mrs. Joel Tompkins, Mrs. W. M. Atkinson, Mrs. B. McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Olmstead, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCullough, Mrs. G. H. Humphreys, Mrs. Robert Humphreys, Miss Mary Humphreys, J. R. Humphreys, Mrs. B. B. Brumbaugh, Mrs. S. W. Almy, Mrs. T. A. Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lucore, all of Brockwayville; A. B. Reed, Phillipsburg; Rev. and Mrs. N. B. Wilson, Barnesboro, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rearick, Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. S. G. Logan, Sidney Logan, Mrs. A. Logan, Miss C. Rearick, Ridgway, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. D. McDonald, Butler, Pa.; Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Hutchison, Mary Hutchison, Dagus Mines, Pa.; J. D. Connelly, Clearfield, Pa.; Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Bell, Mrs. J. Bechtel, Mrs. J. W. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Yonut, Mrs. E. E. Houck, Mrs. W. H. Osborne, Mrs. T. Irvin, Miss Lelia Brisbin, Victor Buys, all of DuBois, and C. R. Rogers, of Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Rearick were former residents of Brockwayville, where they were held in highest esteem. Mr. Rearick took charge of Kennedy Park Game Reserve about three years ago where they have since resided and where they have gained the friendship and respect of every person who has had occasion to cross the mountain and make stop at their handsome little home, where a genuine welcome is extended to all.

able to hear her. Time and again as she was being questioned by John R. K. Scott, who, with William T. Connor, represents her, or while under cross examination by Assistant District Attorney Maurice J. Speiser she broke down and cried.

It was 2:25 o'clock in the afternoon when Mr. Speiser had concluded his cross-examination of the defendant. Mrs. Rosier was on the witness stand exactly two hours and forty minutes.

Mrs. Rosier declared that she had no intention to kill her husband, and that she loved him dearly. She purchased the automatic pistol with which she killed the advertising man and his stenographer for the purpose of committing suicide in the presence of her victims if they refused to put an end to their intimacy, she declared.

The actual scene in the advertising man's office when the young mother entered was left, as it has been during the preceding days of the trial, to the imagination of both the jurors and the public. Questioned by her counsel as to what she saw when she entered the office she asserted:

"They (Rosier and Miss Reckitt) were on the lounge. My husband had his coat off. I screamed. They jumped up."

After this the woman declares she remembers nothing that occurred until several hours later when she met Mr. Connor in the Fifteenth and Locust street station.

and she goes to your husband's office for the purpose of killing your husband or any one else?" Mr. Scott asked.

"Oh, no. I loved my husband too well," she said amid sobs. "I would not have killed him. I wanted to kill myself."

The Biggest Saw.
The world's biggest circular saws were made in Philadelphia. There are two of them, each measuring nine feet in diameter. Whirring at the rate of 134 miles an hour, they daily cut their way through giant logs at Hoquiam, Wash.

Easy Deduction.
"Now, Archibald, tell me what an engineer is," said the teacher. "He is a man who works an engine," replied Archibald. "Correct," said the teacher. "Now, William, can you tell me what a pioneer is?" "Yes, sir," answered William, "he's a man who works a plow."

PUT MORE MILK ON YOUR DIET

We told you the other day that milk contained more real nutriment than meat and we had the scientific figures to back up our statement. This is not a dry scientific argument as to why you should place more milk on your menu, but an argument as to why you should have more milk and have better health.

If the body is broken down through overwork, milk is the thing that will build it up faster than anything else. Milk contains everything in the way of a food and you'll find that if you will drink more of it you will gradually pick up and be your own former self.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The present decline of Postal Savings deposits is greatly alarming the Post Office Department. It has become known that there has been a falling off of $41,203,000 since the peak of 1919, most of the decrease taking place in the last few months.

The significance of this lies in the fact that these deposits are always referred to by the department as a barometer of employment conditions. Accordingly, the sharp drop at the time when administration leaders are deluging the country with reports of prosperity is a thoroughly discordant note.

Many men are waiting about alive and well to this day who, by all ordinary medical theories, should be long dead and buried.

This fact is revealed in one of the volumes of "The Official History of the War," just published. The book is meant for the doctors. It deals with the surgical work in France and the other fighting fronts during hostilities, but it contains, hidden among its medical cases and descriptions, much that is of supreme interest to the layman.

Instances are given of wonderful operations on the heart and cures of casualties which were at first thought fatal.

A trooper wounded by a bullet rode several miles to a dressing station, and collapsed. An X-ray photograph of the man showed the bullet in the interior border of the heart. The patient lived for two months in that condition. Then he was operated on. An opening was made, and the bullet removed by a pair of forceps from the extremity of the heart. This manipulation caused little distress to the heart, and the pulse only failed momentarily.

A man was admitted to the hospital after receiving a shrapnel ball wound. The ball was embedded in the wall of the left ventricle, and it was removed with a scoop. The cavity was treated with pure carbolic acid. The patient soon recovered.

A soldier with a large wound in the chest showed that he had a tear in the membrane surrounding the heart and also a wound in the heart itself. This wound was carefully stitched with catgut on a curved needle, the needle being entered half an inch from the edges of the wound. The operation was successful.

It is obvious from these surgical records that the popular idea that "a bullet in the heart" means death is wrong. One soldier whose heart was penetrated through by a bullet from a rifle placed against his chest lived for a considerable time.

A section of the book deals with blood transfusion. It was discovered to be possible to store live blood and to use it as occasion may demand. The blood was drawn from willing donors during times of inactivity and kept for use during rush periods. The giving of blood to a severely stricken man thus made no more demands on an overworked surgical staff than the giving of a simple saline infusion, and a far greater number of patients could be treated than under ordinary direct transfusion from one person to another.

The blood taken for emergency was stored in ice-boxes and the corpuscles were preserved. This stored blood had to be heated to body warmth before being administered. No ill effects were observed from the use of preserved blood corpuscles except in one desperate case.

What is the effect of going into battle on the ordinary civilian?

It is scientifically analyzed in the book. The excitement of an attack converts the normal human being into a simple fighting machine. The effects of the excitement are "to increase the heart beats, raise the blood pressure, and set free glucose from the liver in response to the demand of the muscles for more food-stuffs." The utility of these bodily changes is obvious, enabling the man to do more muscular work and to withstand fatigue longer.

Paper for Car Wheels.

The bureau of standards says the only case it knows of where wheels are made out of paper-mache is in Pullman cars. Pullman car wheels have been made very successfully by gluing together a large number of plates of cardboard with two outside plates of thin metal and surrounded by steel tire.

Inevitable.

A newspaper advises the young man to "escape from labor troubles and other complexities of civilization by taking refuge on a tropical isle." But when he got there he would probably find the accounts concerned with the conditions somewhat exaggerated, and the simple life of a tropical island would be a disappointment.

After All Is Said and Done Goblin Boos Are Just In Fun

By HAL COCHRAN

"What is that face atop the corn?" said Little Mary with deep scorn. "And is it trying to boo at me so I will start to run? My mamma says that I like air, are spirits, and I'd best beware. But, gee, I know that spirits only come to have their fun."

So, Little Mary, you can see, is just as brave as brave can be. "Aw, nothing" ever scares me," says this little tiny tot. "I've heard about the flyin' witch, but shucks, she never made me twitch." And Mary adds that scary things are really Tommyrot.

Say, have you heard the story old, about, about the sandman brave and bold? Why, he's a fine old fellow; if you doubt it, ask your dad. Don't ever let him scare you twice, is Little Mary's sound advice. But only comes to make you see that ought to make you glad.

And then, the goblin boos and folks who live in chimney flues—why Mary really likes them 'cause they're freids of her, she says. Or, travel into fairly large, mystic things are really grand and everybody wants to act real brave to you and me.

So, every little tiny tot should, on this hallow e'eny night, take Little Mary's sound advice and keep all fright away. Don't shiver if the pumpkins boo—they only want to dance with you. So, on the merry witches and the goblins at their play.

RECEIVED WORD OF NEPHEW'S DEATH

Mrs. Rachel Harder received word last week of the death of her little nephew Maynard Sipe, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sipe, former Clearfield residents. The little fellow had diphtheria and later developed membranous croup. He was sick just eight days.

World's Largest Coin.

Probably the largest coin in the world is the property of Erren Zerbe, internationally famous expert on rare coins. It is a piece of stamped copper plate 10 inches square, and weighs six and a half pounds. It has a value of one dollar. The date was a coin of varying value used in Sweden around the year 1730.

An Unusual Ohio Cricket.

The jumping bush cricket (Orthocentrus) is found in small numbers throughout the southern half of Ohio, frequenting the undergrowth of dense woods, the thickets along the borders of streams and the shrubbery of orchards and yards.

Welcome Ruffies!

But they are back again, exactly where they should be, on youthful shoulders, and quaint, quaint, quaint, as they laugh and play, and when they get there they would probably find the accounts concerned with the conditions somewhat exaggerated, and the simple life of a tropical island would be a disappointment.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Closed Nostrils and End Head Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or throat will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, sniffling, mucous discharges or dizziness, no stumbling, no death at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It will penetrate through every passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It is just what you need and catarrh, a fever, headache, or a stuffy-up and miserable.

TRINITY CHURCH EVENTS

Last Sunday showed advances in attendance and offerings in the Bible school. Very personal interest was taken in the lesson study. New scholars were enrolled. Next Sunday was announced the missionary program with special offering.

Very attentive congregations listened to special sermons. In the morning, Psalm 80:1-3 was the basis of an appealing exposition. At night the special sermon used Judges 1:4-7 to present, through the career of Adonibezek, "Monstrous Men, upon whom their crimes and wickedness return in terrible retribution." This was held to be not alone a subject of faith, therefore, a religious doctrine, but an axiom, universally accepted because of the unbroken and frightful testimony of history of nations and individuals. The retribution is always moral, producing in the wrong-doer among other effects, a weakened, perverted or inert condition of the moral nature, sometimes callous, and together with the moral effects usually the most distressing physical results, as in the case of Louis XV. Many strangers were present during the day. Three persons were admitted to membership in October.

Both the instrumental and vocal selections were heard with great interest. The group singing was carefully prepared; piano and organ duet was finely played.

This week's events: Mid-week congregational meeting, Wednesday evening—Missionary study localized in Clearfield—special offering. Thursday, 3 p. m., business meeting, Ladies Aid Society; 4, the social and lunch under Mrs. Emmet Harder's group of Trinity church ladies, whose surnames are A, B, C, and D.

BRADFORD RESIDENTS SURPRISED

Mr. and Mrs. Justice M. McDowell were the guests of honor at a surprise masquerade party which was held at their Pleasant Valley home Monday evening when about 60 of their relatives and friends motored out from Clearfield and dropped in on them. A royal good time was had and after both bounteous and delicious refreshments had been enjoyed all returned to their homes wishing such joy-giving events might be held oftener.

The CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

This Week— Dr. Scholl's Demonstration Week

All this week—until the store closes Saturday night—we are co-operating with Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the internationally known foot authority, in demonstrating Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Appliances and Remedies.

Statistics show that more than 70 per cent of the people are suffering from some form of foot troubles. This means that seven people out of every ten in this city can benefit by calling at our store this week.

An experienced Practicedist, trained in Dr. Scholl's methods, will make an examination of your stockinged feet without charge, and will suggest the Dr. Scholl Appliance or Remedy which will be most beneficial, which will relieve your specific foot troubles and give you foot comfort once more. Come in—without fail—this week.

FREE!

Dr. Scholl's Corrective Foot Exercise Chart, his book, "The Feet and Their Care," and a sample of Dr. Scholl's Zinopods, if you bring the coupon below to this store during Dr. Scholl's Demonstration Week—Oct. 29 to Nov. 4.

SPECIAL COUPON—FREE!

This coupon will entitle the holder, when presented at this store, to:
1. Dr. Scholl's Corrective Foot Exercise Chart.
2. Booklet "Treatment and Care of the Feet."
3. One sample of Dr. Scholl's Zinopods and, if desired by the undersigned, a complete foot and shoe trouble analysis and demonstration.

Governor Sprout has joined with the executives of other states in requesting that the week beginning today be observed as National Apple Week. Agricultural products growing all about us in some form or other, maturing and being gathered in small units, are taken so much as a matter of course that the aggregate value of them is frequently overlooked. It will be amiss for each to remind himself that all the manufactured articles of the country in all branches of trade do not equal in total value that of the agricultural products of the country. Manufacture in its various lines exhausts natural forces which are never replaced. Agriculture properly conducted exhausts no natural resource, but on the contrary, when proper care is taken, only adds to the efficiency of the farm.

Horticulture is a branch of agriculture and apples are probably the most important item in that branch. We all endorse the discovery made in the Garden of Eden by the first pair that the apple is good for food and that they tend to make one healthy, if not wise. The slogan, "An apple a day will keep the doctor away" is worthy of special consideration this week. It is to be regretted that the farm orchard is largely a thing of the past. This fact is undoubtedly due to the ravages of insects and fungus diseases, the operations of which, the farmer with his multitudinous duties does not have time to study. Experience has shown that both are capable of control by spraying and otherwise. If the farmer will take the trouble to investigate sprays, he will discover that the subject is not nearly as great as one might think. A farmer was heard to remark not long since that in the future apples would be grown by commercial growers. This should not be allowed to come to pass, for the reason that the farmer can grow and market his crop much more cheaply than commercial dealers.

We have no quarrel with the commercial apple growers, but in this section there are within a radius of twenty miles not more than two of them, hence it would appear that there is abundant room for the farmer-orchardist.

Results alone are of value in estimating the quality of legislation as it affects any particular part of the population. As Republican Chairman Adams relates in his statement to the country, "this administration in 20 months has turned an army of 5,000,000 idle wage earners into an army of wage earners profitably employed." This gratifying change from conditions inherited from the Democratic administration has been brought about in large part through the operation of legislation by Congress. Labor is not ignorant of the results that have come to it in consequence, and its representative bodies have officially accorded credit where credit is due. The legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor mentioned not a single law which in its opinion is detrimental to the interests of the wage earners. Here is a record on which voters may rely as authoritative. The Republican Congress and the Republican administration of President Harding have been constant in their devotion to the welfare of the country, the attainment of which is impossible if laws detrimental to labor are enacted and enforced. Our further prosperity is dependent on the retention of Congressional control in the hands of Republicans. As the country prospers, labor prospers.

Of course partisan campaigners must have something to talk about, but why presume that the rates of the Republican protective tariff are too high, when the people know that if any of those rates prove too high the act authorizes their reduction?

The flexibility of the new tariff insures the nation and its interests against injustice in the application of protective rates. If any interest is aggrieved, it will have abundant opportunity to procure relief through the Executive if it can prove its case. Therefore talk of excessive rates is distinctly out of order.

If rates are too high, the remedy is not in inciting the electorate to change its political sympathy, but in showing that they are above the warranted level and letting the adjustment machinery of the act take its course. The provision for elasticity assures all concerned of adjustment to meet changed conditions, and that promptly.

It is this provision for dealing with such rates as may prove too high does not suit partisan spellbinders. Without alleged high schedules against which to level their oratorical volleys their occupation would be gone. Hence they shoot, although the flexibility provision has made the target a myth.

Thrift Foe of Idleness.

Once in a while a man picks up a ten-dollar bill on the street, but most ten-dollar bills are earned. Those who earn them do not spend much time on the streets, for they are too busy elsewhere. Thrift is the inveterate foe of idleness.

Turkish Law Based on Koran.

Different parts of the surface of the sea vary markedly in salinity, for it will increase where evaporation is great, as in the Red sea, and decrease where the rainfall is heavy, or where there is very little wind and much leprosy.

Authors Who Get Rich.

The first British writer to make a large fortune was Sir Walter Scott, who earned about a million. Dickens received $12,500 for "Pickwick," and George Eliot $35,000 for "Romola." Lew Wallace received $400,000 for two novels.

Washing White Furniture.

If your white furniture is not enameled, it should be washed a little at a time with soap. If it is enameled, a neutral soap should be used. Each spot, as it is washed, should be thoroughly dried.

"Robin Goodfellow."

Robin Goodfellow is another name for Puck, the little scamp in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," who squeezed the magic juice on the eyes of the Athenian lovers and induced them all up in their affections.

Plural of Two.

In modern usage the preferred plural of the word "two" is "twos." See Charles Kingsley (1807-1892): "They would edge by two and three in the lonely farmhouse." The form "twos" occurs in the folio edition of Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale," act 1, scene 2 (1611): "By twos and threes."

Odd European Belief.

In some parts of Europe, when there are several babies to be christened at the same time, the mothers insist on the minister baptizing the girl babies first, as otherwise, when they grow up they will develop beard.

Dresses to Match Collars

Recently in Paris a most attractive costume was seen lavishly trimmed with rich brown fur, and beside it rather resembling an animal. The muff stood a dog of precisely the same shade of fur as that used on the suit. It's the newest thing! Of course, any dog on the end of a leash won't do—it has to be a dog to match the type of your costume.

HALLOWEEN

Sleeves—To Be or Not to Be

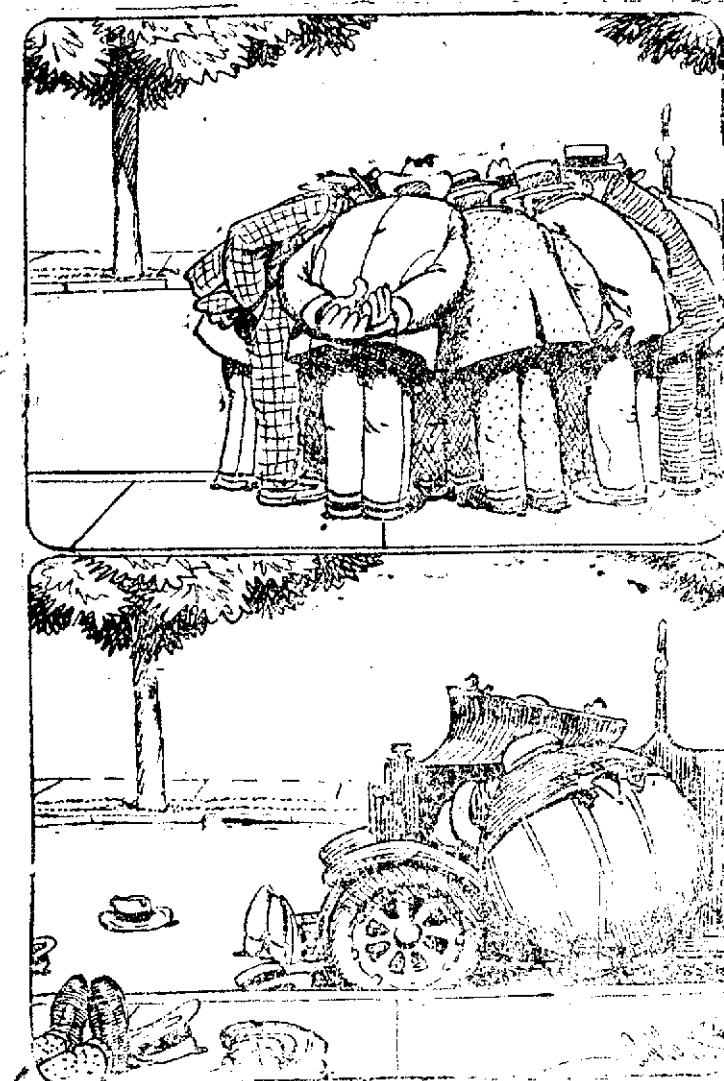

Sleeves have been in a wavering, undecided state. But here is the new style that settled the problem. At a glance you can see it is capable of settling not only the question of sleeves, but of the entire style of the dress. Whether of contrasting material, whether it is embroidered elaborately, or is cuffed with braid, it remains, for the season at least, the one your dress can have.

Camera Seizes Emotions of Tragedy

Modern photography reproduces the intense moment in the tragedy of "Medea" which instilled pity and terror into the Athenian audience of 2500 years ago. The great tragic figure has decided to kill her children. Horror and determination are registered in Sybil Thorndike's face while double exposure develop the story by showing the women of Corinth in a pathetic appeal to prevent the death of the innocents.

EVERETT TRUE —:— —:— By Condo

MISCHIEF NIGHT

HALLOWEEN, when it started far back in the mists of time, was the night when evil spirits were supposed to flock out of hiding and roam the earth, marauding and destroying.

After many centuries we see the work of the evil spirits inherited and ably handled by Willie, Tom, Pat and the rest of the youthful "gang."

It illustrates how next to impossible it is to get a custom or superstition out of the human brain, once it gets there.

ON the ancient agricultural calendar, Hallowe'en was a sort of New Year's Day. Harvest was over and the landlord called for his share of the crops raised by tenant farmers.

It was custom for him to arrive late in the evening and make merry at such pastimes as cider drinking and apple hobbling. When the fun was over and the landlord got down to business, it was early morning of November 1st.

Probably this is why the first of the month is rent-paying day, instead of the 15th or any other date that would be just as logical.

TIME was, when Hallowe'en was less a night of devilry and more a night of hospitality, good fellowship, roaring fireplaces, good things to eat and drink, and delightful superstitions such as walking down cellar stairs backward, carrying a candle and a mirror, in which "her" future husband's face might appear.

The world never has enough of hospitality and goodfellowship. Let's revive it, this Hallowe'en, and make the night of witches and goblins jovial as well as prankful.

Back to Days Of the Druids And Old Rome

Hallowe'en is the eve or vigil of All Hallows or All Saints' Day, Nov. 1.

But it antedates Christian times. On Nov. 1, the Romans had a feast to Pomona, goddess of fruits and seeds.

Thanks for Harvest

On the same date, or thereabouts the Druids held their autumn festival to the sun, giving thanks for the seasons' harvest.

And they taught that, the night before, Saman, lord of death, called together the wicked souls he had condemned to occupy animals' bodies during the year. It was then that, by gifts and incantations, he might be induced to release these captives.

November, too, was one of the times for these same Druids to rekindle their supposedly sacred fires.

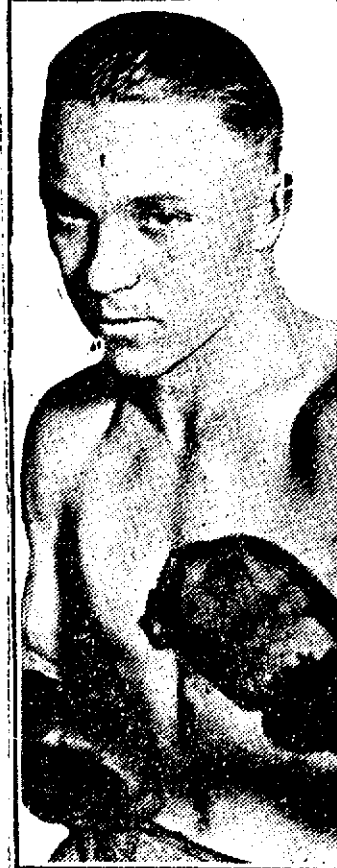

However, the superstitions of pagans and Christians alike agreed that the night of Oct. 31, of all nights in the year, was the time when supernatural influences were strongest.

Weird Powers Abroad

Wraiths of the dead, it was long believed, wandered abroad on this night, together with witches, devils and mischief-making spirits and elves and in some cases the spirits of living persons were able to leave their bodies temporarily, to join this ghostly company.

Hence, of all nights, it was the night for divination and particularly for unmarried young folks to learn whom their future husbands or wives were to be.

Gerlock, Mt. Union's full, gained 18 yards around left end, and Klinger slipped by the other end for 10 yards. Moore made two good tackles in row for C. H. S. Mt. Union punt to Wilson. Locals batter line for two plays, then punt. Visitors unable to gain first down as half ends. Score 19 to 0.

Mt. Union kicks off to C. H. S. for first time. Barney gets through right tackle for 8 yards. Hody Johnson injured. Brown takes his place at half. C. H. S. penalized 5 yards. Howe showed through center for 5 yards. Swede punts from own 20 yard line to Mt. Union's 35. The

Lovers Advised To Go Slow

Chicago, Oct. 31, (United Press)—The "Stop, Look and Listen" sign is being on the marriage altar of Episcopal churches here today.

The action followed a vigorous appeal by Rev. Charles L. Street, dean of the Episcopal Cathedral, urging members of the Episcopal social service department to improvise means of preventing couples from marrying "on the spur of the moment."

"Marriage is a solemn obligation and the home a sacred institution," Rev. Street said. "Both church and state should impose restriction on marriage."

Health examinations and publishing of bans three weeks before the wedding were the chief suggestions he had to offer.

"No couple should be allowed to marry without first submitting to thorough medical examination," he said. "It might even be a good thing to revive the old English custom of publishing bans three services before the ceremony."

"In this way the business of certain marrying mills would be curbed and congestion in the divorce courts relieved."

ADDED ONE TO SHOE STORE CHAIN: MAKES SEVEN BROWN SHOPS

The Philipsburg Journal of Monday evening contained the following reference to the opening of a Brown's Foot Shop branch in that town:—

Brown's Foot shop, Philipsburg's new shoe store located in the remodeled Coal Exchange building, was formally opened to the public Saturday. Many inspected the new store and made purchases.

The store is the newest of a chain of seven owned by a firm in which here are six members, Fred Brown, a Philo, being executive head of the firm, B. J. Nolan, of Clearfield, is manager of the store here.

The Coal Exchange building, built of twenty yards from Brown for a twenty-yard gain, and on the next play uncorked a line pass to Mitchellree for a touchdown. Pass for point scored. Score, C. H. S. 39, Mt. Union 0.

Clearfield kicked off once more, but Mt. Union for down, and started down the field again when the final whistle blew.

On high she flies, up through the skies. And 'cross the Milky Way To find out who she is, just do As these directions say:

Cut out each of the little drawings and paste on separate pieces of cardboard, of the same shape. Then fit these various pieces together correctly and you will have a picture of a well-known Hallowe'en character.

Their History Lost.

When the people of northern Europe were living in reed huts the Mayas of Yucatan seem to have been on the verge of true civilization. The cause of their decline is unknown. When the conquistadores came, soon after the year 1500, their temples, palaces and cities were already in ruins.

The room used by the shoe store is 100 feet in length. The adjoining room will be occupied soon by a grocery store, another chain store conducted by the Keystone Tea Co.

Six separate apartments are located in the remodeled building, and are now nearly completed.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

NOT TOO EARLY TO THINK OF THANKSGIVING TABLEWARE

Be sure that it's pasteurized.

You're probably going to have a big dinner on Thanksgiving and have the folks at the home table. You'll want the table to look its prettiest and there's a lot of things down here that will aid you in making it so.

Pretty silverware goes a long way toward it, and you'll find that we have some very pretty patterns on display right now.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Archie Dunsmore, mine superintendent at Boardman, was a Curwensville visitor yesterday.

Coach Black of the C. H. S. football squad was in Erie on Sunday and played an important part in the game won by the team of that city.

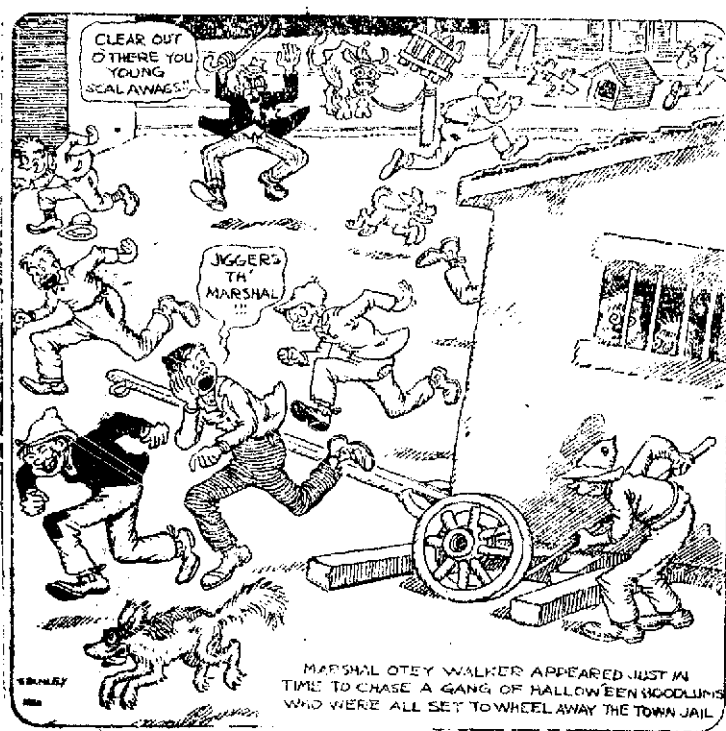

A handsome car bearing the word "Pennsylvania Forestry Department" passed through Curwensville yesterday forenoon. It came from the western part of the State and was on its way to Harrisburg.

At a regular meeting of Bethesda lodge I. O. O. F. on Saturday evening a plan was set afoot for celebrating the 50th anniversary of the institution of that fraternal organization in Curwensville. The time falls on the 1st of December, but as that date comes on Saturday the event will probably take place earlier in the week. While the time is a little far off yet, it is going to require some time to prepare a program worthy of this time honored anniversary. Bethesda lodge does not go half way in anything it undertakes to do, and for this occasion will endeavor to make the entertainment worthy of note and a pleasure for all who will be invited to participate and those invited to be present.

Last evening was "Cornwallis" time and the young people did ample justice in celebrating this time honored custom. Corn was strewn about promiscuously and windows doped with soap and paint. No damage to property worth mentioning was perpetrated, owing to the fact, perhaps, of the vigilance of Chief Clark and his assistants. Tonight (Hallow e'en) the big time will come off, parade and all the accessories. The stage fittings are all set and only awaits the proper time to draw the curtains and start the fun a-going.

Fire Chief Renner has asked us to announce to the people that the first whistle will be sounded at the time the parade starts to move on its rambles through the streets. Therefore, do not become alarmed when she commences to toot, and send out broadcast blasts that do not sound exactly like the sweet notes of the mocking bird.

The Walnut street gutters are in place and Contractor Thompson expects to start laying brick on Wednesday.

John Furst, who at one time was cashier of the Citizens National bank of Curwensville, but later moved to Philadelphia and engaged in the manufacture of lead pencils, was a Curwensville visitor yesterday. He was accompanied by a friend whose name

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Williams and James Rose, all of Tyrone, were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pratt, South Side.

Rev. Alfred Funler, representative of Board of Ministerial Relief and some other association, preached in the Presbyterian church last Sabbath. Rev. Conley, the regular pastor, preached every night last week at Bigler.

Mrs. I. Kantar left today for a month's visit with relatives and friends in Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Detroit.

Druggist E. S. Lowther hid himself over to Altoona and spent Sabbath, presumably with relatives. He might of possibly have visited with some one else's relatives, so his friends think.

Once again the grim hand of Death has invaded our community and overshadowed the entire populace with a pall of sorrow which followed the announcement that the spirit of Mrs.

Wilson Maneval had passed through the dark valley into the great beyond, at the early hour of three o'clock a. m. yesterday. To those who were intimate and close to the family and understood her condition the call was not unexpected.

Mrs. Wilson Maneval, her maiden name being Lillian Tate, was a daughter of George and Catherine (Mattern) Tate, and at the time of her demise was aged 55 years, 11 months 7 days. She was married to Wilson Maneval about thirty-three years ago; no children having been born to their union, although they adopted and reared James Maneval, a nephew of Mr. Maneval.

Mr. and Mrs. Maneval came to Curwensville from the Snow Shoe section about the time that the Hoover, Hughes & Co's lumber mill located here in about 1886-'87, and have resided here ever since, building a comfortable home over on High street, South Side.

Mrs. Maneval was a lovely, christian lady and was known and recognized by all her friends for her deeds of kindness and charity, her principle being "do unto others as you would have others do unto you," and never in all her life neglected to follow out the Golden Rule, as long as her physical condition permitted. In her home she was always lovable and cheerful, and pondering every day over what she could do to make the lives of others happy and cheerful.

Several years ago that dreaded of all diseases, cancer, took hold upon her. Her husband did everything that medical science afforded for her relief, sending her to a hospital for treatment, but without avail, the disease spreading all through her system until all realized that it was only a matter of time until the disease would force life from the frail body. She bore her sufferings with the fortitude of a christian, uttering no complaint, when in great physical pain, but kept in mind the thought, "Lord, Thine will be done, not mine."

The funeral will be held from the home on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Dr. Collins, pastor of the M. E. church of which she was a member officiating. Funeral director Doverspike will have charge of the body and will convey it to Oak Hill cemetery for interment.

"Y" MEMBERSHIP IS TO BE BOOSTED 300; CAMPAIGN THURS.

The Y. M. C. A. will launch a membership campaign on Thursday, November 2nd. Three hundred new members has been set as the goal. The following is the campaign plan:

Two armies have been formed who will go into battle to outdo each other in securing memberships. The army of the Reds will be under the leadership of General Cecil F. Wilson and the army of the Blues will be led by General Philip B. Reed. The object of the campaign is to secure 300 new members and in doing so fill in the triangle that is on the bulletin board in front of the Y. M. C. A. The advance made each day by the armies will be marked to show which army is the most aggressive.

There are two ladies teams in each army and the men will have to look to their laurels as they are coming into the field with a determination to give a good account of themselves.

A supper will be served each evening at 6:30 p. m. at the Harlequin Tea Room when the team captains will make the report of the members secured that day.

We want to put the Clearfield Y. M. C. A. on the map and in order to do this we need your support. BE A BOOSTER.

Apologized to Prisoner.
A peer in England cannot be arrested for a civil debt. A curious case is on record where a bailiff was forced by the court to ask a peer's pardon for having arrested him. He had mistaken the peer for a commoner, he said.

Some Queer Foods.
Chickens' tongues and unbatched chickens are Chinese delicacies; stoth is eaten on the Island of Demarara; a pale blue mole and two mice were the tasty supper that Livingston's guides gave him after crossing the Kasai.

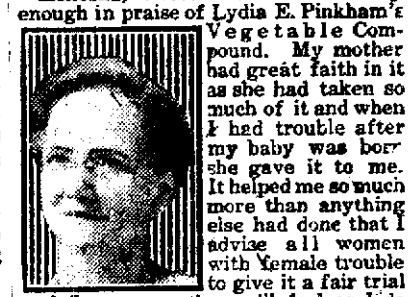

Explaining Dream.
Frightful dreams foretell a sudden rush of blood to the head, while dreams about blood point to inflammation in some part of the body. In this connection a person may suffer from nothing more serious than a festering finger, and yet the spectacle of blood will form part of his dream.

Queer Belief Concerning Opal.
The ancients believed that the opal shared the charm of every stone of which it reflected the color, but when it was stolen the thief became invisible and was never caught.

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Led Her To Try It

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 662 Symmonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors—they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

MRS. HALL ACCEPTS CHALLENGE OF MRS. GIBSON TO FACE HER

DEMOCRATIC STATE CHAIRMAN CLAIMS ONLY 55 COUNTIES

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 31.—Three New York photographers today sought an action picture of Mrs. James Gibson. They saw one but didn't stay to get it.

Evading the guards they made their way to the front of the house where they were met in the doorway by the "pig woman." She warned them away but they persisted in advancing. Drawing a shot gun she took them aim and fired. Whether the aim was wild or the photographers "just naturally" outdistanced the snail is not known.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Hall, widow of the slain doctor today accepted the challenge of Mrs. James Gibson, the "pig-woman" that she dared not stand before her and deny that she was the woman in the gray polo coat she saw present at the double slaying. Thomas Pfeiffer, attorney for Mrs. Hall, announced on behalf of his client that she would stand face to face with Mrs. Gibson and deny she was in the vicinity of the murder on the night of the crime. It is understood she will be supported by Peggy Boorneff who will swear that Mrs. Hall was at home during the time of the murder.

MRS. ROSIER TELLS WHAT SHE SAW IN HUSBAND'S OFFICE

Mrs. Rosier testifying in her own behalf yesterday that her mind is blank as to the actual killing of her husband, Oscar Rosier, advertising man, and his stenographer, Mildred G. Reckitt.

The young lawyer was in tears when at 10:50, with the assistance of a court officer, she took her seat in the witness stand of quarter sessions court No. 1, where she is on trial for the killing of Miss Reckitt.

Several times she fainted upon the stand, and it was only after she had been given restoratives by the court attaché that she was enabled to continue her testimony. Her voice was hardly audible, and it was with the greatest of difficulty that Judge Barratt, the lawyers and the jurors were (Continued On Page Two)

ROTARIANS MEET DISTRICT GOVERNOR AT NOON CONCLAVE

To accommodate District Governor George Lunam of Harrisburg, who is engaged in making his official visitation to the twenty-five Rotary Clubs in his district, the regular weekly meeting of the Clearfield Rotary Club was advanced from Thursday evening to Tuesday at noon.

District Governor Lumm was accompanied to Clearfield by Jack O'Neil, also of Harrisburg. On the way across country they stopped at Philipsburg and President M. Ward Fleming and Secretary Bob Stauffer joined the party and came along to Clearfield.

There was a fine turnout of local Rotarians to greet the District Governor who outlined the aims, objects and ideals of Rotary in a highly interesting twenty minute talk.

Jack O'Neil also addressed the gathering and urged, as did the District Governor, the sending of a large delegation to the 34th District convention, which is to be held in Frederick, Md., in March next.

The District Governor will present their charter to the Philipsburg Club at a meeting to be held at the Hotel Philips at 5 o'clock this evening and a number of Clearfield Rotarians will be present to witness the ceremony.

At the conclusion of the meeting today the Board of Directors of the local club went into executive session with the District Governor for the transaction of some important official business.

Mr. Maneval has the sympathy of the entire populace in his hour of sorrow and bereavement.

KAISER BILL SOME SPORT
Berlin, Oct. 31.—All Germany is talking today over the news that Kaiser Wilhelm has purchased a crown of diamonds set in platinum which is to cost 800,000 marks to present to his bride, the Princess Hermine. In addition the rings and other gifts make a total outlay of over a million marks. The crown is to contain 700 diamonds, none of which are less than 1 karat. The Princess will be crowned "Kaiserin and Queen of Prussia."

SMALL GAME SEASON STARTS TOMORROW MORNING AT SUNUP

The small game hunting season opens in Pennsylvania November 1st and when the sun comes up tomorrow the major portion of the 450,000 hunters in the State will be in their favorite game covers ready to slay the wily pheasant, fleet-footed rabbit, cunning squirrel or wary quail.

In Clearfield county it will be lawful, for the first time in several years to shoot quail and ring-necked pheasants while wild turkey will also be legal game after November 1st.

The following table of open season will be of interest to sportsmen.

Pheasant, ring neck, Chinese and Mongolian, three in one day, six in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Beet, one each season, three to one camp or body of men, November 1st to December 15th.

Quail, commonly called Virginia quail and Gambel quail, eight in one day, twenty-five in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Rabbits, five in one day, forty in one season, November 1st to November 15th.

Quail, Hungarian, four in one day ten in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Ruffed Grouse, commonly called pheasant, three in one day, fifteen in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Squirrels, back, fox or gray, six of combined kinds in one day, twenty in one season, November 1st to November 30th.

Squirrels, red or pine, unlimited, November 1st to August 15th.

Wild turkey, one in a season, Nov. 1st to November 30th.

Game of no kind, except racoon, can be legally killed from sunset of one day to sunrise of the day following. It is illegal to ship by parcel post game of any kind in the Commonwealth.

ONE DIES IN FIRE IN SHELLAC PLANT; EIGHT ARE HURT

New York, Oct. 30.—One person is reported dead and eight seriously injured in a fire which tonight swept through a Brooklyn factory. Several persons, trapped by the flames, fanned by high winds, jumped from the windows.

A series of fire alarms called engines from all parts of the greater city to the blaze. Nearby hospitals immediately recruited emergency forces and the injured were rushed there.

Reports of at least fifteen persons missing are not given any credence by police today.

MENTALLY DEFICIENT GIRL IS CONFINED IN CELLAR OVER 2 YEARS

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—A pitiful story was detailed to a police woman here today by 19-year-old Mary Devine, who says she has been confined in the cellar of her home for over two years while her younger brother and sisters were permitted to roam at will. The girl who is mentally deficient, haltingly told the police woman, "Mother didn't want the neighbors to see me; she didn't like me. Once in a while when she was sure nobody was around she would call me up to scrub the floors."

WAS UNCLE OF LOCAL MAN

W. W. Sterrett, the Devon, Pa., man, who died on Sunday last of poisoning as a result of having eaten a portion of a poisoned cake which was sent to him through the mails, was an uncle of County Farm Agent W. G. Sterrett, of Clearfield.

Mr. Sterrett left this morning for his old home at Beechwoods, Jefferson county, where the remains of his uncle will be buried tomorrow afternoon.

XMAS SEAL SALE NOT STARTED YET

The attention of the public is directed to the sale by various children and individuals of seals that appear to be the Xmas Seals which are sold by the Clearfield Tuberculosis Society. These seals are sold for private gain and the unsuspecting purchaser is left under the impression that he is assisting the noble charity for which the original seal was sold and the proceeds from which is the sole means of supporting the work of the society. The genuine Xmas Seal will not be put on sale before December first, when it goes on sale all over the State and the Nation simultaneously. See that the red double barred cross is on the seals you buy and when you do buy, buy all you can as the society is now practically without funds and there is much work during the winter months.

THE SMYRNA REFUGEES

We want again to remind you that there is a great need of both money and supplies of clothing for the Smyrna refugees and if the church or organization with which you are affiliated does not give you an opportunity to contribute, the deacons of the Presbyterian church will be delighted to receive and forward anything you may contribute. Just leave it at the Pine street entrance of the church and we will attend to it.

Promptness in giving in this case has double value and virtue.

A single garment now is worth more than twenty will be in a few months to those people and unless they get some food promptly now they won't need any.

The Relief Association has wonderful facilities for repairing and renovating clothing so that almost anything except straw or stiff hats and bonnets can be utilized. Just give your closets the once over and see if you can't find something that you can bring to us and receive our thanks and the blessing of some poor starving, cold soul over in Asia Minor.

The Presbyterian Deacons.

PLANS GO FORWARD FOR REPUBLICAN RALLY FRIDAY

Indications point to an especially large crowd of working Republicans from all over Clearfield county at the big rally to be held at the Court House in Clearfield on Friday evening, November 3rd. In addition to the local and district candidates, Hon. Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, Deputy Attorney General and the man whom the late Highway Commission Sadler styled the most brilliant man he had ever met will address the meeting.

Mr. Collins is an orator without peer in Pennsylvania and it will be a treat to hear him talk.

A meeting will be held at Osceola on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the conclusion of which the candidates and other speakers will all come to Clearfield for the evening meeting.

Two Killed In Wreck Of Circus Train And Express In The South

New Orleans, La., Oct. 31.—Two persons killed and four seriously injured is reported to be the toll of a rear end collision between a fast express and the Sells-Floto circus train near Franklin, La., early today. The locomotive of the express crashed into the sleeping cars of the circus train.

SATURDAY WILL BE FORGET-ME-NOT DAY

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—Governor Sproul today signed a proclamation designating Saturday, November 4th, as Forget-Me-Not Day in honor of and for the benefit of disabled ex-service men. The Governor warmly commended the leaders of the movement and urges all citizens to buy forget-me-nots from the proper agencies, which funds are to be used to help disabled men.

Son Of Former Resident Suicides While Mother Prepares To Go To Church

William Irvin Shewell, twenty-six year old, 1732 Spruce street, Philadelphia a senior student of the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, and a member of the Phi Alpha Sigma Fraternity and of the William Pepper Medical Society, shot and killed himself Sunday morning in his bedroom after he asked his mother, Mrs. Laura Ward Shewell, and his sister, Miss Rebecca, who were preparing to go to church, to wait for him. Relatives say he was despondent due to an illness from overstudy.

His mother, who is the widow of William M. Shewell, after waiting for some time, was about to send her daughter to see what delayed him, when the two women heard a pistol shot. They ran up the stairs and opening the door found the young man stretched on the bed with a bullet through his head.

They had him taken immediately to the Polyclinic Hospital but he was dead.

G. D. Shewell of Germantown, a cousin, said the young man had suffered severe pains in the back of his head and that he frequently had complained.

"For the last six weeks," said Mr. Shewell, "Williams has been under the care of a physician. He has been applying himself too hard to his studies and frequently told the family that he felt as if something were about to break in the back of his head, so intense was the pain."

Mrs. Shewell, mother of the unfortunate young man, was formerly Miss Laura Shaw and was raised in Clearfield.

LOCAL MAN IN AUTO SMASH

E. J. Turner in his Franklin car had a run in with a Cadillac near Blue Ball Sunday afternoon. Mr. Turner was traveling toward Philipsburg when the Cadillac made the turn off the Morgan Run road. When he saw the Franklin approaching the driver of the Cadillac, whose name we did not learn, attempted to stop his car but his brakes failed to work and he wallowed the Franklin, knocking it eight or ten feet across the road. Both cars were considerably damaged and while the occupants were more or less shaken up none was seriously injured.

Spanked!

Mrs. Adele Blom Montford, prominent in New York society, played the title role in "She Who Got Spanked," according to her husband, Frederick D. Montford. Her husband, former St. Paul banker, admitted in separation suit papers, that he spanked his bride in a hotel in Naples.

TAKEN TO THE PENITENTIARY

Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Hunn, caught left this morning for Philipsburg, having in charge Vincenzo La Rossa, who got mixed up in the Luff, Tulletti case and was given two years of labor in the penitentiary, and Mike Martino, of the Madera region who was also sentenced by Judge Bell on Saturday last to serve one year in separate and solitary confinement for the carrying of concealed deadly weapons and threatening to shoot a young woman up in the Madera section.

TOM SIMS' Hallowe'en

Hallow e'en is one of our most unknown-about celebrations.

King of spades means you needed a king of diamonds.

Apparently without any provocation that is what tonight is.

Four aces, you will be rich. Five aces, you will be shot.

Its origin dates back even before the annual coal shortages.

Tea grounds in a cup bottom means it wasn't coffee.

While it only comes once a year it has seldom been known to miss.

Apple peels shaped like letters show they are not orange peels.

It really is All Souls' Day, but all the sinners celebrate.

Count apple seeds. One with the most proves the early worm late.

Yet, as a saxophonist said, "It's an ill wind that blows no good."

Apples dangling from strings make an excellent string game.

If you have furniture you dislike just leave it on the porch.

Each is the apple of your eye because that is where it hits you.

William can get his ears clean bobbing for apples in a tub.

Race, chewing opposite string ends, stops chewing the rag.

Steal your own fence and gate and it will help with the coal bill.

In this chewing match always give the men a two-foot start.

This is the only way you can give the coal barons the gate.

Blindfold everyone and let them hunt thumbtacks barefooted.

People naturally hankering for a party can fling one naturally.

Enjoyment is added if they carry lighted candles in both hands.

Your visitors will be guests because you guess who they are.

Hide and seek is fine. Seek to pull someone's flowers and hide.

You will know which is witch but can't tell which is which.

Then the owner of the flowers seeks your hide and tans it.

When the cats are served watch the goblins gobble.

The ghost really walks for those who get paid on the first.

Fortunes can be told tonight and misfortunes tomorrow.

All the 'pumpkin' heads running around won't have candles in them.

CELEBRATED SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rearick celebrated their 25th or silver wedding anniversary at their home at Kennedy Park Game Reserve on Saturday, October 28th, 1922. More than fifty of their former neighbors and friends from Jefferson and Elk counties, principally, were present to assist in properly celebrating the happy event.

The weather was ideal for the occasion and tables were erected on the lawn and there at the mountain top, and one of the most picturesque spots in all of Pennsylvania, the ceremony incident to the eventful occurrence was held and a most excellent dinner enjoyed.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Bell, who performed the wedding ceremony twenty-five years ago, was one of the honored guests.

Mrs. Rearick received a wealth of handsome and valuable presents and the day was thoroughly enjoyed. Those present for the happy occasion were as follows:

Mrs. Joel Tompkins, Mrs. W. M. Atkinson, Mrs. B. McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Olmstead, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCullough, Mrs. G. H. Humphreys, Mrs. Robert Humphreys, Miss Mary Humphreys, J. R. Humphreys, Mrs. B. B. Brumbaugh, Mrs. S. W. Almy, Mrs. T. A. Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lucore, all of Brockwayville; A. B. Reed, Phillipsburg; Rev. and Mrs. N. B. Wilson, Barnesboro, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rearick, Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. S. G. Logan, Sidney Logan, Mrs. A. Logan, Miss C. Rearick, Ridgway, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. D. McDonald, Butler, Pa.; Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Hutchison, Mary Hutchison, Dagus Mines, Pa.; J. D. Connelly, Clearfield, Pa.; Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Bell, Mrs. J. Bechtel, Mrs. J. W. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. C. B.

Mrs. Rosier Tells What

able to hear her. Time and again as she was being questioned by John R. K. Scott, who, with William T. Connor, represents her, or while under cross examination by Assistant District Attorney Maurice J. Speiser she broke down and cried.

It was 2:25 o'clock in the afternoon when Mr. Speiser had concluded his cross-examination of the defendant. Mrs. Rosier was on the witness stand exactly two hours and forty minutes.

Mrs. Rosier declared that she had no intention to kill her husband, and that she loved him dearly. She purchased the automatic pistol with which she killed the advertising man and his stenographer for the purpose of committing suicide in the presence of her victims if they refused to put an end to their intimacy, she declared.

The actual scene in the advertising man's office when the young mother entered was left, as it has been during the preceding days of the trial, to the imagination of both the jurors and the public. Questioned by her counsel as to what she saw when she entered the office she asserted:

"They (Rosier and Miss Reckitt) were on the lounge. My husband had his coat off. I screamed. They jumped up."

After this the woman declares she remembers nothing that occurred until several hours later when she met Mr. Connor in the Fifteenth and Locust street station.

and she goes to your husband's office for the purpose of killing your husband or any one else?" Mr. Scott asked.

"Oh, no. I loved my husband too well," she said amid sobs. "I would not have killed him. I wanted to kill myself."

Mortality Statistics.
Phineus Shark, the eminent statistician and mathematician, estimates that if all the safety zones in the United States were placed side by side, there would still be pedestrians to stand outside of them and automobile drivers who would drive through them. —Detroit Motor News.

The Biggest Saw.
The world's biggest circular saws were made in Philadelphia. There are two of them, each measuring nine feet in diameter. Whirring at the rate of 134 miles an hour, they daily cut their way through giant logs at Hockley, Wash.

Easy Deduction.
"Now, Archibald, tell me what an engineer is," said the teacher. "He is a man who works an engine," replied Archibald. "Correct," said the teacher. "Now, William, can you tell me what a pioneer is?" "Yes, sir," answered William, "he's a man who works a plow."

PUT MORE MILK ON YOUR DIET

We told you the other day that milk contained more real nutriment than meat and we had the scientific figures to back up our statement. This is not a dry scientific argument as to why you should place more milk on your menu, but an argument as to why you should have more milk and have better health.

If the body is broken down through overwork, milk is the thing that will build it up faster than anything else. Milk contains everything in the way of a food and you'll find that if you will drink more of it you will gradually pick up and be your own former self.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The present decline of Postal Savings deposits is greatly alarming the Post Office Department. It has become known that there has been a falling off of $41,203,000 since the peak of 1919, most of the decrease taking place in the last few months.

The significance of this lies in the fact that these deposits are always referred to by the department as a barometer of employment conditions. Accordingly, the sharp drop at the time when administration leaders are deluging the country with reports of prosperity is a thoroughly discordant note.

Many men are waiting about alive and well to this day who, by all ordinary medical theories, should be long dead and buried.

This fact is revealed in one of the volumes of "The Official History of the War," just published. The book is meant for the doctors. It deals with the surgical work in France and the other fighting fronts during hostilities, but it contains, hidden among its medical cases and descriptions, much that is of supreme interest to the layman.

Instances are given of wonderful operations on the heart and cures of casualties which were at first thought fatal.

A trooper wounded by a bullet rode several miles to a dressing station, and collapsed. An X-ray photograph of the man showed the bullet in the interior border of the heart. The patient lived for two months in that condition. Then he was operated on. An opening was made, and the bullet removed by a pair of forceps from the extremity of the heart. This manipulation caused little distress to the heart, and the pulse only failed momentarily.

A man was admitted to the hospital after receiving a shrapnel ball wound. The ball was embedded in the wall of the left ventricle, and it was removed with a scoop. The cavity was treated with pure carbolic acid. The patient soon recovered.

A soldier with a large wound in the chest showed that he had a tear in the membrane surrounding the heart and also a wound in the heart itself. This wound was carefully stitched with catgut on a curved needle, the needle being entered half an inch from the edges of the wound. The operation was successful.

It is obvious from these surgical records that the popular idea that "a bullet in the heart" means death is wrong. One soldier whose heart was penetrated through by a bullet from a rifle placed against his chest lived for a considerable time.

A section of the book deals with blood transfusion. It was discovered to be possible to store live blood and to use it as occasion may demand. The blood was drawn from willing donors during times of inactivity and kept for use during rush periods. The giving of blood to a severely stricken man thus made no more demands on an overworked surgical staff than the giving of a simple saline infusion, and a far greater number of patients could be treated than under ordinary direct transfusion from one person to another.

The blood taken for emergency was stored in tin boxes and the corpuscles were preserved. This stored blood had to be heated to body warmth before being administered. No ill effects were observed from the use of preserved blood corpuscles except in one desperate case.

What is the effect of going into battle on the ordinary civilian?

It is scientifically analyzed in the book. The excitement of an attack converts the normal human being into a simple fighting machine. The effects of the excitement are "to increase the heart beats, raise the blood pressure, and set free glucose from the liver in response to the demand of the muscles for more food-stuffs." The utility of these bodily changes is obvious, enabling the man to do more muscular work and to withstand fatigue longer.

Paper for Car Wheels.

The bureau of standards says the only case it knows of where wheels are made out of paper-mache is in Pullman cars. Pullman car wheels have been made very successfully by gluing together a large number of plates of cardboard with two outside plates of thin metal and surrounded by steel tire.

Inevitable.

A newspaper advises the young man to "escape from labor troubles and other complexities of civilization by taking refuge on a tropical isle." But when he got there he would probably find the accounts concerned with the conditions of the island exaggerated, and the simple life of a tropical islander, with its hardships and dangers, would be a far more complex and inevitable.

After All Is Said and Done Goblin Boos Are Just In Fun

By HAL COCHRAN

"What is that face atop the corn?" said Little Mary with deep scorn. "And is it trying to boo at me so I will start to run? My mamma says that I like air, are spirits, and I'd best beware. But, gee, I know that spirits only come to have their fun."

So, Little Mary, you can see, is just as brave as brave can be. "Aw, nothing" ever scares me," says this little tiny tot. "I've heard about the flyin' witch, but she's never made me twitch." And Mary adds that scary things are really Tommyrot.

Say, have you heard the story old, about, about the sandman brave and bold? Why, he's a fine old fellow; if you doubt it, ask your dad. Don't ever let him scare you twice, is Little Mary's sound advice. But only comes to make you see that ought to make you glad.

And then, the goblin boos and folks who live in chimney flues—why Mary really likes them 'cause they're freids of her, she says. Or, travel into fairly large, mystic things are really grand and everybody wants to act real brave to you and me.

So, every little tiny tot should, on this hallow e'en night, take Little Mary's sound advice and keep all fright away. Don't shiver if the pumpkins boo—they only want to dance with you. So, on the merry witches and the goblins at their play.

RECEIVED WORD OF NEPHEW'S DEATH

Mrs. Rachel Harder received word last week of the death of her little nephew Maynard Sipe, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sipe, former Clearfield residents. The little fellow had diphtheria and later developed membranous croup. He was sick just eight days.

World's Largest Coin.

Probably the largest coin in the world is the property of Erren Zerbe, internationally famous expert on rare coins. It is a piece of stamped copper plate 10 inches square, and weighs six and a half pounds. It has a value of one dollar. The date was a coin of varying value used in Sweden around the year 1730.

An Unusual Ohio Cricket.

The jumping bush cricket (Orthocentrus) is found in small numbers throughout the southern half of Ohio, frequenting the undergrowth of dense woods, the thickets along the borders of streams and the shrubbery of orchards and yards.

Welcome Ruffies!

But they are back again, exactly where they should be, on youthful fashion. And quite a number of them are busy taking notice of a trophy. But when he got there he would probably find the accounts concerned with the conditions of the island exaggerated, and the simple life of a tropical islander, with its hardships and dangers, would be a far more complex and inevitable.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Closed Nostrils and End Head Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or throat will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, sniffling, mucous discharges or dizziness, no stumbling, no death at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It will penetrate through every passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It is just what you need and catarrh, a fever, headache, or a stuffy-up and miserable.

WE'RE READY!

We are prepared to do all kinds of light and heavy automobile repairing, washing of cars. Lots of water on our own private line. Limited amount of room for storage. TRINITY CHURCH EVENTS

Last Sunday showed advances in attendance and offerings in the Bible school. Very personal interest was taken in the lesson study. New scholars were enrolled. Next Sunday was announced the missionary program with special offering.

Very attentive congregations listened to special sermons. In the morning, Psalm 80:1-3 was the basis of an appealing exposition. At night the special sermon used Judges 1:4-7 to present, through the career of Adonibezek, "Monstrous Men, upon whom their crimes and wickedness return in terrible retribution." This was held to be not alone a subject of faith, therefore, a religious doctrine, but an axiom, universally accepted because of the unbroken and frightful testimony of history of nations and individuals. The retribution is always moral, producing in the wrong-doer among other effects, a weakened, perverted or inert condition of the moral nature, sometimes callous, and together with the moral effects usually the most distressing physical results, as in the case of Louis XV. Many strangers were present during the day. Three persons were admitted to membership in October.

Both the instrumental and vocal selections were heard with great interest. The group singing was carefully prepared; piano and organ duet was finely played.

This week's events: Mid-week congregational meeting, Wednesday evening—Missionary study localized in Clearfield—special offering. Thursday, 3 p. m., business meeting, Ladies Aid Society; 4, the social and lunch under Mrs. Emmet Harder's group of Trinity church ladies, whose surnames are A, B, C, and D.

BRADFORD RESIDENTS SURPRISED

Mr. and Mrs. Justice M. McDowell were the guests of honor at a surprise masquerade party which was held at their Pleasant Valley home Monday evening when about 60 of their relatives and friends motored out from Clearfield and dropped in on them. A royal good time was had and after both bounteous and delicious refreshments had been enjoyed all returned to their homes wishing such joy-giving events might be held oftener.

This Week—

Dr. Scholl's Demonstration Week

All this week—until the store closes Saturday night—we are co-operating with Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the internationally known foot authority, in demonstrating Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Appliances and Remedies.

Statistics show that more than 70 per cent of the people are suffering from some form of foot troubles. This means that seven people out of every ten in this city can benefit by calling at our store this week.

An experienced Practicedist, trained in Dr. Scholl's methods, will make an examination of your stockinged feet without charge, and will suggest the Dr. Scholl Appliance or Remedy which will be most beneficial, which will relieve your specific foot troubles and give you foot comfort once more. Come in—without fail—this week.

FREE!

Dr. Scholl's Corrective Foot Exercise Chart, his book, "The Feet and Their Care," and a sample of Dr. Scholl's Zinopods, if you bring the coupon below to this store during Dr. Scholl's Demonstration Week—Oct. 29 to Nov. 4.

SPECIAL COUPON—FREE!

This coupon will entitle the holder, when presented at this store, to:
1. Dr. Scholl's Corrective Foot Exercise Chart.
2. Booklet "Treatment and Care of the Feet."
3. One sample of Dr. Scholl's Zinopods.
and, if desired by the undersigned, a complete foot and shoe trouble analysis and demonstration.

Governor Sproul has joined with the executives of other states in requesting that the week beginning today be observed as National Apple Week. Agricultural products growing all about us in some form or other, maturing and being gathered in small units, are taken so much as a matter of course that the aggregate value of them is frequently overlooked. It will be amiss for each to remind himself that all the manufactured articles of the country in all branches of trade do not equal in total value that of the agricultural products of the country. Manufacture in its various lines exhausts natural forces which are never replaced. Agriculture properly conducted exhausts no natural resource, but on the contrary, when proper care is taken, only adds to the efficiency of the farm.

Horticulture is a branch of agriculture and apples are probably the most important item in that branch. We all endorse the discovery made in the Garden of Eden by the first pair that the apple is good for food and that they tend to make one healthy, if not wise. The slogan, "An apple a day will keep the doctor away" is worthy of special consideration this week. It is to be regretted that the farm orchard is largely a thing of the past. This fact is undoubtedly due to the ravages of insects and fungus diseases, the operations of which, the farmer with his multitudinous duties does not have time to study. Experience has shown that both are capable of control by spraying and otherwise. If the farmer will take the trouble to investigate sprays, he will discover that the subject is not nearly as great as one might think. A farmer was heard to remark not long since that in the future apples would be grown by commercial growers. This should not be allowed to come to pass, for the reason that the farmer can grow and market his crop much more cheaply than commercial dealers.

We have no quarrel with the commercial apple growers, but in this section there are within a radius of twenty miles not more than two of them, hence it would appear that there is abundant room for the farmer-orchardist.

Results alone are of value in estimating the quality of legislation as it affects any particular part of the population. As Republican Chairman Adams relates in his statement to the country, "this administration in 20 months has turned an army of 5,000,000 idle wage earners into an army of wage earners profitably employed." This gratifying change from conditions inherited from the Democratic administration has been brought about in large part through the operation of legislation by Congress. Labor is not ignorant of the debts that have come to it in consequence, and its representative bodies have officially accorded credit where credit is due. The legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor mentioned not a single law which in its opinion is detrimental to the interests of the wage earners. Here is a record on which voters may rely as authoritative. The Republican Congress and the Republican administration of President Harding have been constant in their devotion to the welfare of the country, the attainment of which is impossible if laws detrimental to labor are enacted and enforced. Our further prosperity is dependent on the retention of Congressional control in the hands of Republicans. As the country prospers, labor prospers.

Of course partisan campaigners must have something to talk about, but why presume that the rates of the Republican protective tariff are too high, when the people know that if any of those rates prove too high the act authorizes their reduction?

The flexibility of the new tariff insures the nation and its interests against injustice in the application of protective rates. If any interest is aggrieved, it will have abundant opportunity to procure relief through the Executive if it can prove its case. Therefore talk of excessive rates is distinctly out of order.

If rates are too high, the remedy is not in inciting the electorate to change its political sympathy, but in showing that they are above the warranted level and letting the adjustment machinery of the act take its course. The provision for elasticity assures all concerned of adjustment to meet changed conditions, and that promptly.

The provision for dealing with such rates as may prove too high does not suit partisan spellbinders. Without alleged high schedules against which to level their oratorical volleys their occupation would be gone. Hence they shoot, although the flexibility provision has made the target a myth.

Thrift Foe of Idleness.

Once in a while a man picks up a ten-dollar bill on the street, but most ten-dollar bills are earned. Those who earn them do not spend much time on the streets, for they are too busy elsewhere. Thrift is the inveterate foe of idleness.

Turkish Law Based on Koran.

The laws of the Turkish empire are based on the precepts of the Koran, and the sultan's will is absolute when not in opposition to accepted tenets of the Mahometan religion as laid down in the sacred books of the prophet.

Sea Varies in Salinity.

Different parts of the surface of the sea vary markedly in salinity, for it will increase where evaporation is great, as in the Red sea, and decrease where the rainfall is heavy, or where there is very little wind and much depression.

Authors Who Get Rich.

The first British writer to make a large fortune was Sir Walter Scott, who earned about a million. Dickens received $12,500 for "Pickwick," and George Eliot $35,000 for "Romola." Lew Wallace received $400,000 for two novels.

The Hardest Part.

Our own guess is that after conquering the world, Alexander died of rage while trying to collect the indemnity.—Birmingham (Ala.) News.

Washing White Furniture.

If your white furniture is not enameled, it should be washed a little at a time with soap. If it is enameled, a neutral soap should be used. Each spot, as it is washed, should be thoroughly dried.

"Robin Goodfellow."

Robin Goodfellow is another name for Puck, the little scamp in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," who squeezed the magic juice on the eyes of the Athenian lovers and induced them all up in their affections.

Plural of Two.

In modern usage the preferred plural of the word "two" is "twos." See Charles Kingsley (1807-1875): "They would edge by two and three in the lonely farmhouse." The form "twos" occurs in the folio edition of Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale," act 1, scene 2 (1611): "By twos and threes."

Odd European Belief.

In some parts of Europe, when there are several babies to be christened at the same time, the mothers insist on the minister baptizing the girl babies first, as otherwise, when they grow up they will develop beard.

Sowing and Reaping.

We sow a thought and reap an act; we sow an act and reap a habit; we sow a habit and reap a character; we sow a character and reap destiny.—Thackeray.

Dresses to Match Collars

Recently in Paris a most attractive costume was seen lavishly trimmed with rich brown fur, and beside it rather resembling an animated little muffed dog of precisely the same shade of fur as that used on the suit. It's the newest thing! Of course, any dog on the end of a leash won't do—it has to be a dog to match the type of your costume.

HALLOWEEN

Sleeves—To Be or Not to Be

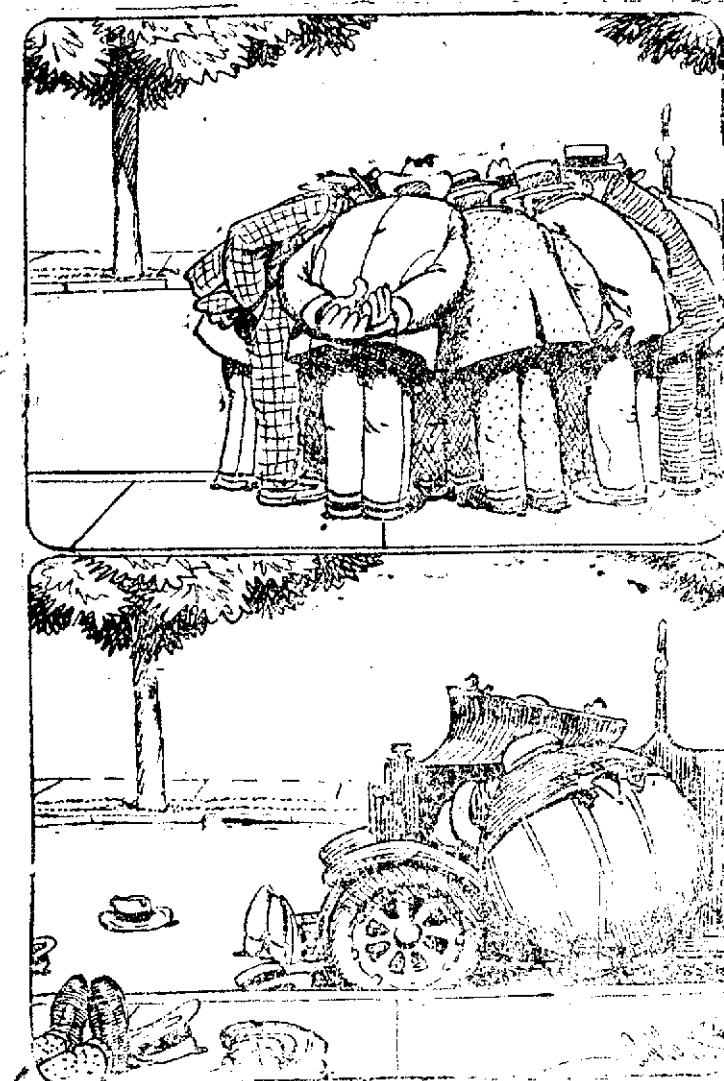

Sleeves have been in a wavering, undecided state. But here is the new style that settled the problem. At a glance you can see it is capable of settling not only the question of sleeves, but of the entire style of the dress. Whether of contrasting material, whether it is embroidered elaborately, or is cuffed with braid, it remains, for the season at least, the one your dress can have.

Camera Seizes Emotions of Tragedy

Modern photography reproduces the intense moment in the tragedy of "Medea" which instilled pity and terror into the Athenian audience of 2500 years ago. The great tragic figure has decided to kill her children. Horror and determination are registered in Sybil Thorndike's face while double exposure develop the story by showing the women of Corinth in a pathetic appeal to prevent the death of the innocents.

EVERETT TRUE —:— —:— By Condo

MISCHIEF NIGHT

HALLOWEEN, when it started far back in the mists of time, was the night when evil spirits were supposed to flock out of hiding and roam the earth, marauding and destroying.

After many centuries we see the work of the evil spirits inherited and ably handled by Willie, Tom, Pat and the rest of the youthful "gang."

It illustrates how next to impossible it is to get a custom or superstition out of the human brain, once it gets there.

ON the ancient agricultural calendar, Hallowe'en was a sort of New Year's Day. Harvest was over and the landlord called for his share of the crops raised by tenant farmers.

It was custom for him to arrive late in the evening and make merry at such pastimes as cider drinking and apple hobbling. When the fun was over and the landlord got down to business, it was early morning of November 1st.

Probably this is why the first of the month is rent-paying day, instead of the 15th or any other date that would be just as logical.

TIME was, when Hallowe'en was less a night of devilry and more a night of hospitality, good fellowship, roaring fireplaces, good things to eat and drink, and delightful superstitions such as walking down cellar stairs backward, carrying a candle and a mirror, in which "her" future husband's face might appear.

The world never has enough of hospitality and goodfellowship. Let's revive it, this Hallowe'en, and make the night of witches and goblins jovial as well as prankful.

Mounted on the back of Jennie, her mule, Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig-woman" of New Brunswick, saw the man and woman who murdered Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills.

Marcel still rules the waves. The inventor of the famous curl is shown here on his seventieth birthday, celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of his invention.

Twenty years ago, Jerome Uhl, noted painter and opera singer, married Elizabeth Norris of Philadelphia. They were divorced in 1914, remarried in 1917, and divorced again in 1919. Now Uhl is sailing for Europe to marry his former wife for the third time.

Back to Days Of the Druids And Old Rome

Hallowe'en is the eve or vigil of All Hallows or All Saints' Day, Nov. 1.

But it antedates Christian times. On Nov. 1, the Romans had a feast to Pomona, goddess of fruits and seeds.

Thanks for Harvest

On the same date, or thereabouts the Druids held their autumn festival to the sun, giving thanks for the seasons' harvest.

And they taught that, the night before, Saman, lord of death, called together the wicked souls he had condemned to occupy animals' bodies during the year. It was then that, by gifts and incantations, he might be induced to release these captives.

November, too, was one of the times for these same Druids to rekindle their supposedly sacred fires.

However, the superstitions of pagans and Christians alike agreed that the night of Oct. 31, of all nights in the year, was the time when supernatural influences were strongest.

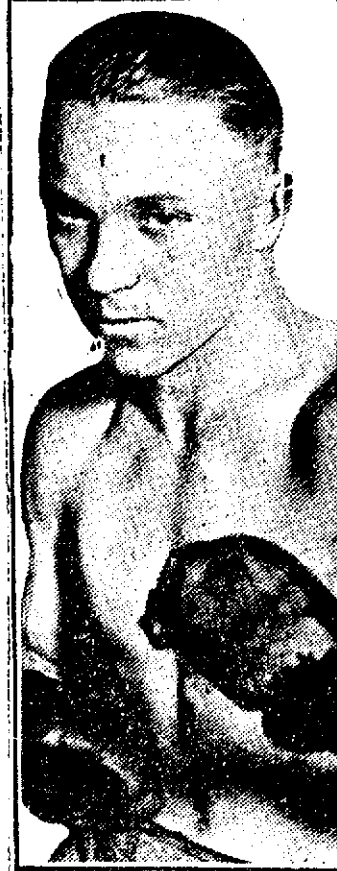

Weird Powers Abroad

Wraiths of the dead, it was long believed, wandered abroad on this night, together with witches, devils and mischief-making spirits and elves and in some cases the spirits of living persons were able to leave their bodies temporarily, to join this ghostly company.

Hence, of all nights, it was the night for divination and particularly for unmarried young folks to learn whom their future husbands or wives were to be.

Taker of First Whale Honored. Among the Eskimo communities great honor is paid to the boat which catches the first whale of the season.

Ray in Ring

Jole Ray, track champion, will soon be seen in the professional ring. The brilliant star of the cinder paths was a thunderbolt when he appeared in an amateur bout in Chicago.

Western Respect for Women!

The best story of the westerner's reverence for women, writes a correspondent of a London paper, "is concerned with the conclusion of a little fight with Indians. The latter got the best of it and the squaws arrived with stone hammers to finish off the wounded. As a squaw thus armed was approaching a half-conscious victim his friend called out to him: 'Look out, Bill, there's a lady coming.'"

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

Eating too much meat may clog kidneys, then the back hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jael Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jael Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jael Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Lovers Advised To Go Slow

Chicago, Oct. 31, (United Press)—The "Stop, Look and Listen" sign is being on the marriage altar of Episcopal churches here today.

The action followed a vigorous appeal by Rev. Charles L. Street, dean of the Episcopal Cathedral, urging members of the Episcopal social service department to improvise means of preventing couples from marrying "on the spur of the moment."

"Marriage is a solemn obligation and the home a sacred institution," Rev. Street said. "Both church and state should impose restriction on marriage."

Health examinations and publishing of bans three weeks before the wedding were the chief suggestions he had to offer.

"No couple should be allowed to marry without first submitting to thorough medical examination," he said. "It might even be a good thing to revive the old English custom of publishing bans three services before the ceremony."

"In this way the business of certain marrying mills would be curbed and congestion in the divorce courts relieved."

ADDED ONE TO SHOE STORE CHAIN: MAKES SEVEN BROWN SHOPS

The Philipsburg Journal of Monday evening contained the following reference to the opening of a Brown's Foot Shop branch in that town:—

Brown's Foot shop, Philipsburg's old shoe store located in the remodeled Coal Exchange building, was formally opened to the public Saturday. Many inspected the new store and made purchases.

The store is the newest of a chain of seven owned by a firm in which here are six members, Fred Brown, a Philo, being executive head of the firm, B. J. Nolan, of Clearfield, is manager of the store here.

The Coal Exchange building, built of twenty yards from Brown for a twenty-yard gain, and on the next play uncorked a line pass to Mitchell for a touchdown. Pass for point scored. Score, C. H. S. 39, Mt. Union 0.

Clearfield kicked off once more, but Mt. Union for down, and started down the field again when the final whistle blew.

Cut out each of the little drawings and paste on separate pieces of cardboard, of the same shape. Then fit these various pieces together correctly and you will have a picture of a well-known Hallowe'en character.

The room used by the shoe store is 100 feet in length. The adjoining room will be occupied soon by a grocery store, another chain store conducted by the Keystone Tea Co.

Six separate apartments are located in the remodeled building, and are now nearly completed.

When the people of northern Europe were living in reed huts the Mayas of Yucatan seem to have been on the verge of true civilization. The cause of their decline is unknown. When the conquistadores came, soon after the year 1500, their temples, palaces and cities were already in ruins.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

OYSTERS

Man, Dear! but they're coming in great. Great big ones from the depths of Chesapeake Bay, where they grow the finest Oysters that the world knows of.

Drop in on your way home or send the kiddies to the store and have some of these fine "counts" fried for your supper or some of the smaller ones stewed to your liking.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Archie Dunsmore, mine superintendent at Boardman, was a Curwensville visitor yesterday.

Coach Black of the C. H. S. football squad was in Erie on Sunday and played an important part in the game won by the team of that city.

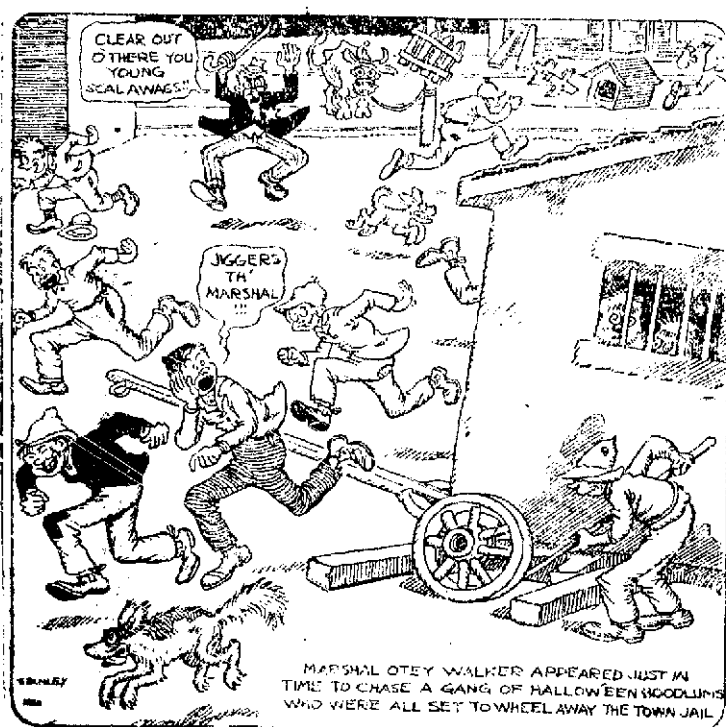

A handsome car bearing the word "Pennsylvania Forestry Department" passed through Curwensville yesterday forenoon. It came from the western part of the State and was on its way to Harrisburg.

At a regular meeting of Bethesda lodge I. O. O. F. on Saturday evening a plan was set afoot for celebrating the 50th anniversary of the institution of that fraternal organization in Curwensville. The time falls on the 1st of December, but as that date comes on Saturday the event will probably take place earlier in the week. While the time is a little far off yet, it is going to require some time to prepare a program worthy of this time honored anniversary. Bethesda lodge does not go half way in anything it undertakes to do, and for this occasion will endeavor to make the entertainment worthy of note and a pleasure for all who will be invited to participate and those invited to be present.

Last evening was "Cornwallis" time and the young people did ample justice in celebrating this time honored custom. Corn was strewn about promiscuously and windows doped with soap and paint. No damage to property worth mentioning was perpetrated, owing to the fact, perhaps, of the vigilance of Chief Clark and his assistants. Tonight (Hallow e'en) the big time will come off, parade and all the accessories. The stage fittings are all set and only awaits the proper time to draw the curtains and start the fun a-going.

Fire Chief Renner has asked us to announce to the people that the first whistle will be sounded at the time the parade starts to move on its rambles through the streets. Therefore, do not become alarmed when she commences to toot, and send out broadcast blasts that do not sound exactly like the sweet notes of the mocking bird.

The Walnut street gutters are in place and Contractor Thompson expects to start laying brick on Wednesday.

John Furst, who at one time was cashier of the Citizens National bank of Curwensville, but later moved to Philadelphia and engaged in the manufacture of lead pencils, was a Curwensville visitor yesterday. He was accompanied by a friend whose name ve failed to ascertain. Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Williams and James Rose, all of Tyrone, were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pratt, South Side.

Rev. Alfred Funler, representative of Board of Ministerial Relief and some other association, preached in the Presbyterian church last Sabbath. Rev. Conley, the regular pastor, preached every night last week at Bigler.

Mrs. I. Kantar left today for a month's visit with relatives and friends in Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Detroit.

Druggist E. S. Lowther hid himself over to Altoona and spent Sabbath, presumably with relatives. He might of possibly have visited with some one else's relatives, so his friends think.

Once again the grim hand of Death has invaded our community and overshadowed the entire populace with a pall of sorrow which followed the announcement that the spirit of Mrs.

Wilson Maneval had passed through the dark valley into the great beyond, at the early hour of three o'clock a. m. yesterday. To those who were intimate and close to the family and understood her condition the call was not unexpected.

Mrs. Wilson Maneval, her maiden name being Lillian Tate, was a daughter of George and Catherine (Mattern) Tate, and at the time of her demise was aged 55 years, 11 months 7 days. She was married to Wilson Maneval about thirty-three years ago; no children having been born to their union, although they adopted and reared James Maneval, a nephew of Mr. Maneval.

Mr. and Mrs. Maneval came to Curwensville from the Snow Shoe section about the time that the Hoover, Hughes & Co's lumber mill located here in about 1886-'87, and have resided here ever since, building a comfortable home over on High street, South Side.

Mrs. Maneval was a lovely, christian lady and was known and recognized by all her friends for her deeds of kindness and charity, her principle being "do unto others as you would have others do unto you," and never in all her life neglected to follow out the Golden Rule, as long as her physical condition permitted. In her home she was always lovable and cheerful, and pondering every day over what she could do to make the lives of others happy and cheerful.

Several years ago that dreaded of all diseases, cancer, took hold upon her. Her husband did everything that medical science afforded for her relief, sending her to a hospital for treatment, but without avail. The disease spreading all through her system until all realized that it was only a matter of time until the disease would force life from the frail body. She bore her sufferings with the fortitude of a christian, uttering no complaint, when in great physical pain, but kept in mind the thought, "Lord, Thine will be done, not mine."

The funeral will be held from the home on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Dr. Collins, pastor of the M. E. church of which she was a member officiating. Funeral director Doverspike will have charge of the body and will convey it to Oak Hill cemetery for interment.

Cheerfulness Goes Far.

Wondrous is the strength of cheerfulness, altogether past calculation in power of endurance.—Thomas Carlyle.

Britain's Beauty

Nobility carried off beauty honors in a recent English contest when Lady Stapleton was declared the most beautiful woman in Great Britain.

"Y" MEMBERSHIP IS TO BE BOOSTED 300; CAMPAIGN THURS.

The Y. M. C. A. will launch a membership campaign on Thursday, November 2nd. Three hundred new members has been set as the goal. The following is the campaign plan:

Two armies have been formed who will go into battle to outdo each other in securing memberships. The army of the Reds will be under the leadership of General Cecil F. Wilson and the army of the Blues will be led by General Philip B. Reed. The object of the campaign is to secure 300 new members and in doing so fill in the triangle that is on the bulletin board in front of the Y. M. C. A. The advance made each day by the armies will be marked to show which army is the most aggressive.

There are two ladies teams in each army and the men will have to look to their laurels as they are coming into the field with a determination to give a good account of themselves. A supper will be served each evening at 6:30 p. m. at the Harlequin Tea Room when the team captains will make the report of the members secured that day.

We want to put the Clearfield Y. M. C. A. on the map and in order to do this we need your support. BE A BOOSTER.

Apologized to Prisoner.

A peer in England cannot be arrested for a civil debt. A curious case is on record where a bailiff was forced by the court to ask a peer's pardon for having arrested him. He had mistaken the peer for a commoner, he said.

Some Queer Foods.

Chickens' tongues and unbatched chickens are Chinese delicacies; stoth is eaten on the Island of Demarara; a pale blue mole and two mice were the tasty supper that Livingston's guides gave him after crossing the Kasai.

Explaining Dream.

Frightful dreams foretell a sudden rush of blood to the head, while dreams about blood point to inflammation in some part of the body. In this connection a person may suffer from nothing more serious than a festering finger, and yet the spectacle of blood will form part of his dream.

Queer Belief Concerning Opal.

The ancients believed that the opal shared the charm of every stone of which it reflected the color, but when it was stolen the thief became invisible and was never caught.

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Led Her To Try It

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 662 Symonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration. If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles. The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors—they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

Modern Samson Foils Vamping Delilahs

The Biblical strong man whose strength vanished when he permitted a fair lady to bob his hair, has been a horrible example to the modern Samson, Sascha. Sascha is one of the entrants in the Physical Culture show in New York. Feminine contestants who have accepted his challenge to pull out his hair are here shown in an energetic but hopeless attempt.

Collars

The neckline of a dress no longer stops at the yoke, but ends as it pleases in the most becoming of collars. For children there are demure Quakerish collars, the Puritanical schuss and the light fluffy beachas. But greater in style than all these is the collar that never will fail to give a lady a look of interest.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY AT BIGLER

A delightful Halloween party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Smeal at Bigler Thursday evening, Oct. 26. About sixty of their friends attended and all reported a good time.
